Charleston County Probate Judge Irv Condon Issues Statement Looks Forward to Debating Challenger

Charleston, SC – June 13, 2018 – Charleston County Probate Judge Irv Condon today issued the following statement now that primary voters have selected their choices for the November General Elections.

“Charleston County Probate Court oversees millions of dollars and thousands of cases annually with a staff of 20 and three very experienced lawyers as Associate Probate Judges here in Charleston County. There’s a lot at stake and voters should continue their support for my campaign and allow me to continue as Charleston County Probate Judge. I look forward to debating my challenger and believe when voters look at my record and the team I have in place, I will be their top pick in November.

Since taking office, I’ve led with vision and new technologies to better serve our citizens and make our probate court a national model of excellence,” said Charleston County Probate Judge Irv Condon.

Charleston County Probate Judge Irv Condon has successfully served the citizens of Charleston County for more than 20 years.
